U.S. URGED TO TAKE PART IN PARLEY ON DISARMAMENT

Senator Walsh Opposes Reduction Of Navy Asked By Borah

VIEWS OF PRESS

Workers In Germany Are Quoted As Fearing Monarchists

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, Senator Walsh urged the despatch of an American representative to sit on the Disarmament Commission of the League of Nations. He opposed Senator Borah's resolution, asking the President to negotiate with Great Britain and Japan, with a view to reducing naval expenditure.

He said the American Navy would be as formidable as the British in 1924 if their respective programs were continued on the present basis, but Senator Borah's resolution, which simply called for a 50 percent cut in the British, United States and Japanese building programs, would tend indefinitely to postpone the time when Great Britain would no longer be mistress of the seas.

OPPOSE GERMAN CLAIMS

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 6.—Discussing the question of the disarmament of Germany, the Petit Parisien writes:

"Never have the relations between the French and British Governments been marked by more friendly confidence, and the meeting of the Supreme Council will open under the best auspices.

"British opinion, far from being favorable to the German claims, in the matter of armament, demands the execution of the Versailles and Spa agreements. Besides the organs usually favorably disposed towards French policy, like the Times, Daily Telegraph and Morning Post we now see the pacifist Daily News strongly declaring for the disbandment of the German military police, whilst even the Bolshevist Daily Herald emphasises that the Fehrenbach Cabinet's refusal to disarm is a sign of the predominance of the reactionary Pan-German party."

WORKERS OPPOSE ROYALISTS

In Germany, even the Democrats support the British viewpoint. The entire working classes and their representatives in the Reichstag, the Independent and Majority Socialists and even certain delegates of the Catholic Unions are unanimous in their demand for the dissolution of the Prussian and Bavarian Civic Guards, in which they rightly see the docile instruments of the monarchist reactionaries.

The Left parties charge the Imperial Government with having yielded to pressure from the Right. Thus it may be said that the complete and speedy disarmament of Germany will be hailed with satisfaction by the German people themselves.

Canadian Ships On Training Cruise To Pacific Coast

(Reuter's Service)

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—The Naval Service Department describes as absurd the reports that a Canadian squadron is being transferred to the Pacific Coast to join the American and Australian navies for mutual protection. It states that the Canadian vessels are simply visiting the Pacific in the course of a training cruise.

Financial Crisis At Mexico Capital

(Reuter's Service)

Mexico, City, Jan. 5.—The financial crisis has been intensified by the closing of the Mercantile Banking Corporation, a North-American institution, owing to heavy withdrawals by depositors.

Guards have been stationed at the Banque Francaise du Mexique, where heavy runs continue, but it is believed this bank will weather the storm. The depositors of other banks are anxious, but up to the present there have been no further runs. It is rumored that a moratorium will be declared.

JAPAN FAVORS CHINA OPEN DOOR SAYS HAYASHI

Baron Denies Nippon Is Seeking East Control To Dominate World

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—Baron Hayashi, in an interview with the Evening Standard, gave a categorical denial to the allegations that Japan is seeking to gain control of the Far East, as a preliminary to world domination.

He emphasised that it was Japan's firm intention to restore Shantung. It was not, he said, Japan's fault that no progress had been made. China had been requested nearly a year ago to make arrangements and commence the necessary formalities for receiving back Shantung, but nothing had been done.

So far from her desiring to absorb Chinese territory, and abolish the open-door policy, said Baron Hayashi, Japan was only too pleased to participate in the Consortium, with a view to developing China's resources. Japan's policy was that of friendship with both China and America.

Seven Killed When Police Fire Upon Crowd At Funeral

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Seven persons have been killed and 22 wounded at Flensburg, in Schleswig, as the result of the police firing volleys into a crowd which tried to storm the barracks.

A local Communist had been killed by the police when trying to escape arrest, and it was his funeral which was the occasion of this popular outburst.

Britons Urged To Enter Commercial Fields In China

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—The Times gives prominence to a telegram from its Peking correspondent, emphasising the astonishing vitality of China's foreign trade, despite famine, civil war and other adverse circumstances, and pointing the moral of this for the captains of industry in Great Britain.

The correspondent says the scope for foreign enterprise in China is illimitable, and the field more open than ever it was previously. Preliminary cultivation is needed, with a view to development in the future, when political conditions become more settled, and transportation is improved. He believes that all commercial firms who establish themselves in China now will reap a rich reward.

TELLS PLIGHT OF FAMINE VICTIMS IN SHENSI AREA

Minister Draws Pathetic Picture Of Sufferings In The North

A pathetic picture of the suffering in Shensi province is given in a letters received from the Rev. A. G. Shorrock, of Sianfu. He says:

"But things here are becoming serious. The people have been very patient round about Sianfu but the little resources they had are becoming exhausted now and hundreds of families close about us are absolutely without food.

"Today on our own account we called together 500 poor people and gave them a good feed in the mission premises. It was a sight. It only cost us about $40 and it gave such unbounded delight.

"But what about tomorrow and the next day and so on—and the thousands represented by these 500! One's thoughts went out to the crowds of destitute all around. Still in thin garments—in the falling snow—pinched and worn and hopeless. It made me sad.

AID FOR CHILDREN

"Can you get help for special work such as this from Christian people? We could take in children—say 100—and feed them and teach them for $4.50 each monthly. Our Christians are patient and do not ask for special help, but gifts from Christians to Christians would be welcome and appreciated. The amounts sent hitherto from the coast have been distributed equally to all, but they have only amounted to a very small portion for individuals. What are $50,000 among so many hundreds and thousands?

"The next few months will be a very bad time. Hitherto the people in the country have subsisted on a little grain and ts'ai gathered from the fields but now this supply is no longer available—and the time of great stress and scarcity is upon them. Only yesterday a poor woman asked for a few cash to buy half a cup of (fu tzu) bran for her starving baby! And appeals are coming in from all round from destitute families.

PRICE OF GRAIN

"Grain is cheap in Kansu but it cannot be brought down without special permit. I think we can manage to get it here, however, by official arrangement. Grain is cheaper in San Yuan than in Sianfu and the people there while in great need can sometimes find refuge in the northern hills where supplies are cheaper.

"The earthquake was terrible here on the 16th. We have no news of Lanchou or Yenanfu. We hear grave news of those ports but hope there has been no great catastrophe?"

Peking, Jan. 7.—A representative of the International Famine Relief Bureau reports from Shansi that Tsao Kun is buying large quantities of millet in that province and shipping it out of the

EMPIRE CABINET TO SHAPE POLICY ON BIG ISSUES

Premiers And Subordinate Ministers Are Urged To Be Present

MEETING SET FOR JUNE

Canada's Proposal To Send Minister To Washington One Of Problems

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—It is understood that the Imperial Cabinet will meet in the second half of June.

The invitations to the various Premiers allow of the inclusion of subordinate Ministers. These invitations have been sent out in response to the repeated solicitations of Mr. Hughes and Gen. Smuts, while Mr. Lloyd George is equally keen on this matter, and has impressed upon the Premiers that if they do not assemble soon, Great Britain will be compelled to settle various important questions relating to foreign affairs single-handed, and this would be prejudicial to the interests of both the Dominions and Great Britain.

TO DISCUSS NAVIES

The agenda is now in course of preparation, and will be sent out to the Dominions at the end of January, leaving ample time for them to offer additional suggestions.

The question of big navies is certain to be the most outstanding feature of the Conference.

The Government anticipates that the Dominions Premiers will desire a concurrent meeting of the Committee of Imperial Defence, and that they will bring with them their naval and military advisers.

The Premiers will be invited to fix the composition, date, and meeting-place of the proposed Constitutional Conference. It is believed that the Governments now favor this being held in London next year. Owing to the magnitude of the problems to be discussed, the Imperial Ministers consider that the representation at this conference should be larger than at the old-time conferences, and should include members of the Oppositions in the various Dominions.

CANADA ENVOY TO U.S.

Other subjects to be discussed at the June conference comprise emigration within the Empire—on which subject Mr. Lloyd George is likely to submit comprehensive proposals—the question of inter-Empire communications, and various problems arising out of the peace settlement. It is felt that the Japanese-American and Chino-Japanese situations are bound to be discussed, while Canada's proposal for a direct Ambassador to Washington will likewise crop up.

French Cabinet To Stand, Is Report

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 6.—The French press publishes a denial of the rumor that the Premier, M. Georges Leygues, intends to hand the President the collective resignation of the Cabinet as soon as Parliament reconvenes.

The Figaro goes further, and understands that no Ministerial changes whatever are contemplated. "The Premier," writes the journal, "who accepted the responsibilities of Government under difficult circumstances, is not in the least inclined to throw them over. He is chiefly occupied at present with the Allied Conference which is being held in Paris on January 19 and is due to his initiative."

Policy Of France On Russian Soviet Laid Down By M. Leygues

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 6.—M. Georges Leygues, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, in reply to a question by M. Cochin, Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, has enunciated France's policy in regard to Soviet Russia. He made the following points:

(1). That the total indebtedness to France on account of Russian affairs amounts to some hundreds of millions of francs, and not to several thousand millions, as has been suggested.

(2). That there is no blockade of Russia.

(3). That individual French citizens are at liberty to enter into trade relations with Russia at their own risk, and without entailing Government responsibility.

(4). That the French Government has no intention of recognising the Soviet Government so long as the latter fails to demonstrate its willingness to conform to international law and to respect the obligations of previous Russian Governments toward foreign Governments and nationals.

(5). That the de facto Government established by General Wrangel has ceased to exist, through having abandoned the territory that it occupied.

(6). That the French Government is resolutely hostile to all policy of aggression, and, in conformity with the decision of the Council of heads of Allied Powers on February 25 last, it will render assistance solely to those States which find themselves obliged to defend their territory and liberty against the encroachments of the Bolshevist Power.

BRITAIN FACES CRISIS BECAUSE OF WORK LACK

Shipping Circles Alarmed By Outlook As Freights Become Lighter

WORK HOURS DISCUSSED

Employers Tell Unionists Of Dangers Connected With Underemployment

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 5.—Reports of the closing of works and the discharge of their men continue to come in from various parts of the country, emphasising the need for immediate measures to relieve unemployment.

Inquiries in London shipping circles show that a crisis is now impending in the shipping industry. The chief sufferers are expected to be the smaller new concerns, which have not been able to accumulate sufficient reserves.

The value of ships has fallen 50 percent as compared with what it was at the end of the war. It is pointed out that if a steamer's value were based on its earning capacity it would be negligible, owing to the shortage of freights, while if based on the cost of building it would be 100 percent higher.

MAY LAY UP SHIPS

Some owners are of opinion that the more economical course is to lay up ships until the markets improve. On the other hand, the Cunard line's new program is expected to better the situation of the company, which proposes to build 23 ships this year, with a tonnage of 300,000. The policy this line is pursuing is that of building smaller, swifter ships, and not repeating the mammoths like the Aquitania.

London, Jan. 5.—The National Alliance of Employers and Employed, at a meeting presided over by Sir Vincent Caillard, chairman of Messrs. Vickers, Ltd., at which some prominent trade unionists were present, considered the Government's proposals for working short time, and has issued a statement on the subject.

SHORT TIME PERIL

It affirms that these proposals are already in operation almost as far as is possible. It points out the evils of under-employment as an alternative to unemployment, and the consequent risk that a reasonable subsistence level will not be reached.

The Alliance therefore condemns compulsory short time, and favors instead a reduction of working hours, by which means the unemployed may benefit, wherever the employers and employed are in voluntary agreement.

It considers that the real solution lies in cordial co-operation between employers and trade unionists.

SEES SILVER LINING

London, Jan. 5.—Mr. Blakemore, President of the National Chamber of Trade, whose predictions of cheaper food a few months ago are already being fulfilled, now confidently declares that the present bad times will quickly pass, and that a period of happiness and prosperity is coming.

His reasons for this are that the foodstuffs market is now abundantly supplied, and there is an increasing tendency towards cheapness. When wages go further contentment among the workers will result, thus enabling manufacturers to give firm quotations and to promise delivery

Passengers Drive Train Crews To Work

(Reuter's Service)

VIENNA, Jan. 6.—A "lightning strike" of employes of the Southern Railway, which involved the stopping of trains in the middle of their journeys, led to the furious passengers attacking the enginedrivers and guards with revolvers and sticks, and forcing them to proceed to their destination.

There was a free fight between passengers and strikers on the arrival of a train at Gratz station, but the gendarmerie put a stop to this.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES INHUMANLY TREATED IS JAP ACCUSATION

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, Jan. 7.—Consular advices from Vladivostok state that the Japanese commander has accused the Vladivostok Government of inhumanity for failing to care for the refugees formerly under Kappel and Semenoff in the Maritime Province.

The Japanese stated that in the interests of humanity, Japanese might take the refugees under their wings.

It is feared by the Russians that the Japanese may reorganise there for ulterior purposes. The Vladivostock Government has ordered all refugee trains to retrain from passing Pogranitchnaya, but the order has been ignored and 20,000 refugees, including 5,000 wounded and 2,500 women have been detrained and straggled over the snow on foot into the maritime province.

HUNAN COMMANDER WANTS JAPAN RICE EMBARGO RAISED

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Hankow, Jan. 7.—Being pressed for funds by his troops in Hunan, General Chao Hung-ti, the Hunan Commander-in-Chief has requested the Peking Government to raise the embargo on rice in Hunan in order to allow Japanese to export 1,500,000 piculs of the cereal.

Allied Conference On War Debts Is Financier's Plan

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 5.—Mr. Raymond Ffennell, the well-known financier, formerly of Johannesburg, in a letter to the Times, refers to the impending visit of Lord Chalmers to Washington, with the object of discussing the rearrangement and payment of Great Britain's war debts to America.

Mr. Ffennell infers that Great Britain, in proposing to pay, is apparently not considering what course shall be pursued as regards the indebtedness of her European allies to her, which, even excluding Russia's heavy debt, exceeds that of Great Britain's debt to the United States.

The writer asks whether the nations which fought alongside each other for right, liberty and truth should exact from each other the uttermost payment for services rendered. He suggests that the levying of repayments on a business basis among the Allies will joepardise their future peace and friendliness, and prevent the stability of exchanges, the flourishing of trade and the disappearance of unemployment.

Mr. Ffennell urges America to convene an international conference at which the whole question of inter-allied war indebtedness should be discussed. He fears that the Government has not fully realised the vital importance of dealing correctly, wisely and broad-mindedly with foreign debts.

Bagdad Assassin's Victim Was Native

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 5.—With reference to the recent report from Paris that the chief of Police at Bagdad, a British officer, had been assassinated, Reuter is informed that the officer who was assassinated was a native minor officer.

CORK MAYOR, IN U.S. AS STOWAWAY, IS ORDERED HOME BY INQUIRY BOARD

Irish Leader Is Admitted To U.S.

O'Callaghan Appeals Case When Deportation Is Threatened; Passport Of Peter MacSwiney Is Recognised

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 5.—Two men, who claim to be Mr. Peter MacSwiney, brother of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, and Mr. Daniel O'Callaghan, the present Lord Mayor of Cork, have arrived at Newport News, Virginia, as stowaways on board the American steamer West Canon, from Ireland.

Both of them were arrested, but subsequently released, though O'Callaghan remained under guard, as MacSwiney carried a passport.

The State Department has ordered an investigation as regards O'Callaghan's arrival, and intimates that unless extraordinary extenuating circumstances are adduced, it is probable that he must be treated as an ordinary stowaway. O'Callaghan has declared that he was proceeding to Washington to give evidence before the Irish Committee of Inquiry.

TAKES AN APPEAL

(Later).—The Board of Special Inquiry at Norfolk has ordered the exclusion of O'Callaghan, who has appealed. His case has been referred to the State Department.

London, Jan. 6.—The Government has released the Editor and the two Directors of Freeman's Journal, who were recently sentenced to imprisonment by court martial, on the ground of ill-health.

London, Jan. 6.—In consequence of an ambush at Newmarket, County Cork, five houses in Meelin, from which the attackers were seen to fire, have been destroyed by order of the Military Governor.

Armed Sinn Feiners paid simultaneous visits to the residences of the Dublin County Council rate-collectors, who had resigned owing to the Council adhering to Dail Eireann.

MANIFESTO BY DE VALERA

They forced the collectors to sign cheques aggregating at least £10,000, representing moneys which had been withheld. The collectors were kept prisoners until cheques had been cashed.

London, Jan. 6.—A manifesto by President de Valera forecasted in the Freeman's Journal, denies that Sinn Fein is making overtures for peace, but states that we will not turn a deaf ear to the Government proposals, provided they are based on the recognition of Ireland as an independent nationality.

The manifesto continues: "When representatives of the English nation are prepared to meet representatives of the Irish nation on an equal national footing, peace talk will be possible.

It is stated that the forces of the Crown are most assiduously searching for de Valera, whom they are most anxious to arrest.

London, Jan. 7.—In consequence of the non-payment of the fine of £100 imposed on the town of Fermoy for the tearing down of a proclamation, the troops have seized goods to the value of £25 each from four leading tradesmen in the place.

WINDOW REACHES U. S.

New York, Dec. 5 (by mail.)—Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the Lord Mayor of Cork, arrived in this city yesterday morning and a great throng of Irish sympathisers welcomed her here. No marring incident occurred, but the enthusiasm manifested for her made it clear that this youthful woman was probably the most persuasive suppliant for American sympathy and help that has ever come from Ireland to this country.

Mrs. MacSwiney made it clear in her first statement that she intended to do what she could to fulfill the hope of her husband that his sacrifice would become a power in advancing the Irish cause. After a rest at the Hotel St. Regis, she said:

"I am deeply grateful for the wonderful reception given to me this morning, and especially to the women of America, for their generous tribute to my husband's memory. I have many beautiful letters from Americans, even from American children, and I am happy to be in a country where so many, many people are thinking about the cause of Ireland.

"You will understand, of course, that I can say nothing

British And Reds In Persian Clash

(Reuter's Service)

London, January 6.—The War Office reports considerable activity in the Maglobar-Siahrud area, 20 miles south of Resht, in North-western Persia.

A British post in this district was bombarded by Red artillery on December 26 and 28, and the Red infantry drove in the post.

Subsequently our reinforcements recaptured the position and, following up this success, drove an enemy picket south of Siahrud. We lost two men wounded, and the Reds lost two killed, one wounded, and one prisoner.

The hostile force, under cover of darkness, took up a position north-west of Maglobar on the 28th, but was put to flight by our troops, leaving nine killed and two prisoners, including a Russian officer. Two machine-guns and 13 rifles were also captured.

McCORMICK AT PARIS

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 6.—Senator McCormick, who has been visiting the principal capitals of Europe on a special mission from President-Elect Harding, arrived here from Rome on Tuesday evening. He left for Brussels yesterday, and sails for New York from Cherbourg on Saturday.

...ut conditions there until I ... appeared before The Na...l's Commission on Ireland, which invited me here. The hearing is to be on Wednesday next in Washington, I am told.

EXPECTS HELP FROM U. S.

"But I should like to say that both my husband and I always expected that America would help us very greatly in winning our freedom.

"We feel in Ireland that America has a greater responsibility in the matter than any other land on account of her fine traditions and her war pledges, and because there are so many millions of our kin in this country."

Mrs. MacSwiney left her girl baby in Ireland, and, according to the stewardess who attended her on the Celtic, most of her talk was about the child and little about politics or the Irish cause.

Among her visitors at the hotel was a delegation of longshoremen headed by Joseph Ryan, International Vice President of the Longshoremen's Association. Ryan wore a button in his lapel bearing a picture of Mrs. MacSwiney and her baby.

"Let me see that," she said, examining it intently. "But the baby does not look like that now. She is much bigger."

DISTINGUISHED PASSENGER

Thousands had gathered near the White Star Line piers to greet Mrs. MacSwiney early in the morning, and police lines were drawn from Fourteenth to Twenty-third Street. Mounted policemen clattered up and down the granite block pavement, while scores of detectives stood guard about the buildings of the White Star Line, fearing that Irish sympathiers might attack the property of the British steamship company, by way of a demonstration, if excitement grew intense. But, throughout the day, there not only was no violence, but no outward display of hostility.

Mrs. MacSwiney came over in a British ship under the British flag and was treated as a distinguished passenger. Before the Celtic docked Captain R. O. Jones, the commander, paid a formal visit to Mrs. MacSwiney in her cabin.

Child Loses Fortune By Court Ruling

The last resources upon which Mrs. Frederick Matters, of Chicago, pinned her hope for regaining possession of "Baby Irene," claimed by two mothers, was exhausted recently when the Ottawa, Canada, Supreme Court upheld the decision of the lower court awarding the child to Mrs. Margaret Ryan, of Ottawa. By the same process of law the child was excluded from falling heir to nearly a third of a million dollars which would have been hers as the daughter of the rich Mrs. Matters. Ever since the two women were inmates of Misericordia Hospital the fight over "Baby Irene" has raged in the courts. Both had become mothers but one child died. Both women claimed the living child, and the courts decided that a substitution had taken place and that Mrs. Ryan was really the mother of the baby.

ABDUCTION CASE REMANDED FOR SPECIAL HEARING

Detectives Who Arrested Fukien Students Are Allowed Bail

The two Foochow detectives who are charged with abducting nine Fukienese students into the Chinese City, where they were arrested and charged with the murder of two Foochow merchants, appeared again in the Mixed Court yesterday and were admitted to bail, the case being remanded for special hearing.

The police testified that the City authorities have refused to turn the students over to them as witnesses, though a despatch warrant was issued. Mr. K. E. Newman, appearing to prosecute, said that further charges would be brought against the two defendants and asked that the police be instructed to give him a copy of the despatch warrant from the Fukien authorities which was in the prisoners' possession when they were arrested. This was granted.

Mr. J. Em. Lemiere appeared for the defendants and made application for bail, which was granted in the sum of $500 for one of his clients and $250 for the other.

Mr. Soong, representing the relatives of the students, submitted that the case could not be heard until the boys had been brought to court. Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Li heard the case. The attitude of the Settlement police is that they are watching the matter but taking no part in the prosecution.

Girl Students In Attack On Police

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, January 7.—The students are again under the strict repression of the military in two provinces, Honan and Fengtien. In Honan all the schools have been closed save the mission institutions and the students have been forced to leave for their homes taking all their belongings with them. The students in Mukden demonstrated against the Japanese occupation of Hungchun, parading and distributing inflamatory literature. The police endeavored to check the demonstration, and were set upon by the girl students, who severely injured one policeman. Upon receiving word of the fracas, Tuchun Chang Tso-lin sent troops to quell and disburse the students. They were driven back into their schools, where they have since been held under military guard. The classwork of all schools, however, has been stopped since the 21st with the exception of the primary schools.

The Chinese Recorder

The Chinese Recorder, January 1921. Published monthly by the American Presbyterian Mission Press.

When Moses went up into the mountain to receive the tables of the law, we are told that there was "a thick cloud upon the mount, and voice of a trumpet exceeding loud." In like manner the theological section of the missionary world is being clouded over and for some time the trumpet has been calling to war. This is abundantly illustrated in the present number of the Recorder.

First comes the Rev. C. S. Champness, with an article, "Conversion or Culture" in which he challenges the present activity of the Student Volunteer Movement for the Ministry in China, saying that they put the cart before the horse and that instead of going after volunteers, the tide should be the other way; if the schools were what they ought to be, the volunteers would be coming of their own accord. There is material here for a very pretty difference of opinion.

The Rev. Brownell Gage, of the College of Yale in China tells us "Why I Cannot Join the Bible Union" and gives in clear and decided fashion the reasons why such a Union is, to his mind, a mistake. Nothing that is fixed in form "once for all" can embody to him the living principle of the Church of Christ, or of the individual Christian life. Incidentally he challenges Mr. Coates to substantiate his statements with regard to Mendelism, in a recent number of the Recorder; and altogether, those who agree with him will be grateful for so clear a statement of their case. But as an offset to this we have a letter from the Rev. W. H. Watson, the Vice-chairman of the Bible Union, who says frankly that the war is on, and that the question is far more important than the Term Question, which by comparison was child's play. We may be permitted to wonder whether Dr. Matter and Dr. Legge would have agreed with him. And if he thinks that Luther really said "Here I stand, I can do no other. So help me God," we must wonder also where he studied church history and what his authority is.

Then another pair of statements; the Rev. H. B. Rattenbury writes on "The Word of God and Its Interpreters", while the Rev. H. W. Frost gives us the other side of the shield in "Faith's Final Authority." The value of these statements is not less from their being placed side by side.

It is a relief to turn to the remarkable discussion of the essence of Christianity, and its value, in the article "Ethics and Religion," by Mr. Peng I-hu, himself not a "member of any church" but certainly not far from the Kingdom. His tribute affords much ground for hope that there is knowledge of the real fundamentals in some quarters where one would not think to look for it.

It is impossible to give adequate notice to all the articles; they must be read to be appreciated. The Rev. T. L. Ekeland provides a forcefully written statement of the proper relation between missionaries and mission boards. Dr. T. H. P. Sailer reviews the "Reconstruction of Secondary and Higher Education in India and the United States with Its Suggestions for China." The review is continued and should be read especially by those who are not aware of the remarkable changes that are taking place.

Soviet Put On Grill For Delay In Making British Trade Pact

Lord Curzon Answers Tchitchein's Denial Of Blame By Citing Kameneff's Acts And Ill Treatment Of Britons

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—The Foreign Office publishes a telegram from M. Tchitcherin, dated December 31, repudiating, on behalf of the Soviet Government, responsibility for the protraction of the commercial negotiations, and declaring his Government's readiness to accept the trade agreement concluded last summer, and to confer with the British Government with reference to the latter's subsequent elaboration of the political clauses of that agreement.

Lord Curzon, the foreign Secretary, has replied today, refuting M. Tchitcherin's assertions, and recalling especially the delays caused by M. Kameneff's intervention in the internal politics of Great Britain, and Russian ill-treatment and detention of British subjects.

SOVIET BLAMED

He declares that the present delay is due to the persistant equivocation of the Soviet Government in regard to the condition accepted last July with reference to propaganda.

Lord Curzon insists that if the Soviet Government sincerely intends to carry out its undertakings, there can be no objection to a definition of the areas to which these undertakings specifically refer.

Great Britain therefore hopes that, instead of continuing barren polemics, the Soviet Government will accept the trade agreement, in the sincere execution of which it believes will be found the first step towards the reconstruction of the material prosperity of Eastern Europe.

Lord Curzon insists on a geographical definition of the areas in which the Soviet Government undertakes to refrain from propaganda, and offers to undertake a similar obligation with reference to any area in which the Soviet can fairly claim to have special interests.

HORNE OPTIMISTIC

London, January 7.—In an interview published in the Daily Graphic, Sir Robert Horne, President of the Board of Trade, expressed optimism with regard to the trade outlook for 1921, but deprecated the tendency of great financial and other interests to rely too much on the Government.

The Government, Sir Robert said, realised the need of getting the world at work again at all costs, and was prepared to consider an extension of credit to several belligerant countries but not to Germany at present. The blunt fact was that Germany was dumping goods profusely abroad, for example, she was selling steel billets for twelve pounds ten shillings per ton as compared with fifteen pounds per ton as the cost of their manufacture in Great Britain, and was dealing similarly in cotton fabric gloves, in which Great Britain specialised before the war. There was reason to believe, he said, that German financiers were trying to keep the mark depressed in order to dislodge Great Britain and other countries from the markets of the world, and thus restore Germany's export trade.

RUSSIAN DIVISION

Touching on Russia, he said that Trotsky and Lenin were now heading different groups, the former regarded a continuation of Russia's present condition as essential to the prolongation of Bolshevism, while Lenin disagreed, knowing that trade was a condition of life and survival.

The attitude of the United States was not helpful, said Sir Robert, it was chiefly self-contained, but he was hopeful regarding the movement afoot there. He expressed the opinion that the only solution of the exchange question would be mutual cancellation of the inter-allied war debts. This would not only benefit Europe, but would also improve the commercial value of the dollar.

Britain Faces Crisis Because Of Work Lack

CITES EXAMPLES

He gives as examples the following reductions which were notified on January 1: Sweet biscuits, 2d. to 6d. per lb.; coffee, ditto; soap and sugar, 1d. per lb.; and jam 3d. per lb.; while the prices of bacon, hams, lard, cocoa, and other commodities are to be reduced from February 1, and flour is being reduced by two shillings a quarter.

He asserts that these reductions are not temporary, as great economic changes are taking place in food-producing countries, where there is vastly increased production.

He points out that a vital factor in regard to the future is the elimination of horse transport, as millions and millions of acres which have hitherto been given over to producing oats and hay for animal fodder will now be devoted to growing foodstuffs for human consumption.

Agree To Postpone Customs Surtax

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Jan. 7.—The Waichiaopu has replied to the Diplomatic Corps, agreeing to the latter's proposal that the Customs surtax should not come into force until February 16 and suggesting that supervision of the expenditure of the proposed foreign loan of four million dollars be discussed between the Diplomatic Corps and the Famine Bureau. In the light of previous statements that the Chinese Government, while willing to allow supervision of famine loan expenditure would not officially accept the principle of foreign supervision, the proposal is expected to lead to a practical solution.

The Diplomatic Corps again discussed the loan yesterday, and also the Chinese suggestion that the Supervisory Committee be increased from twelve members to eighteen, but no settlement was reached.

province to Chihli. This makes it very difficult for the relief workers and provincial government to handle the famine situation in Shansi, and they feel that, while such large stocks of grain are spoiling in Manchuria for lack of rolling stock which is being detained by Tsao Kun in Paotingfu, it is unjust for that military lord to drain Shansi, which has less than it needs for its own starving, of grain.

TUCHUN INCENSED

Tuchun Yen Hsi-shan of Shansi is reported to be very much incensed over the matter, but, in view of Tsao Kun's superior situation and military strength, feels helpless and unable to protest.

The Police Headquarters of Peking, as the result of representations made to them by famine relief workers that many young girls of the famine areas are being sold to Peking brothels, have issued an order to every district chief to search the brothels of his district, and if such girls are found, to turn them over to the metropolitan orphanage for care. They are also ordered to strictly prohibit in the future the receipt or retention of any such girls in the houses of prostitution of their districts.

Peking, Jan. 7.—Filipinos and Chinese in Amoy, through the medium of the American Legation have donated the sum of $1,800 towards the famine relief fund of the American Red Cross in China.

Sioux Falls, Wis., December 5.—A "dollar contribution" movement has been started for the purpose of purchasing flour for the relief of the famine sufferers in Northern China. It is hoped that the movement will check the grain declines.

Robert E. Stone, treasurer of the Inter-Church Federation, at Honolulu reports that a check for $1,986.60 has been sent to the relief of famine sufferers in China as the result of the Union Thanksgiving Day service at Kawaiahao Church. At the present exchange rate the check is good for $3,230 in China.

GREAT BRITAIN IS NOT IN DANGER OF BOLSHEVISM

Investigator For The Times Makes Reassuring Report Of His Findings

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—It is a mistake to suppose that Bolshevism has infected Great Britain. This is the conclusion reached by Dr. Arthur Shadwell, formerly Times correspondent in Russia, who has just concluded an exhaustive investigation of the revolutionary movement in Great Britain.

On behalf of the Times, Dr. Shadwell toured the industrial areas, searching for the causes and tendencies of the prevailing unrest. He says that the ferment of revolution is undoubtedly working in the hearts of a number of people, of whom exemplars exist everywhere, who would "get up a revolution in Heaven," but in Great Britain these are comparatively few and powerless, owing to the absence of material on which to work.

He says that Bolshevism is essentially international, and depends on external propaganda for its existence. Consequently, there is a tendency to discern the hand of Moscow in any British revolutionary manifestation, but, he says, this is a mistake.

Bolshevism has made the idea of revolution familiar, but its influence is steadily waning. Indeed, opinion is hardening against Moscow's dictatorial tenets, which are abhorrent to the British temperament.

LOCAL KOREANS STAGE CONCERT TO AID SCHOOL TODAY

Girl Musicians Appear Here For First Time At Olympic Theater

For the first time in Shanghai, Korean girl artists of the high class will perform today before a public gathering. The occasion is a concert in aid of the proposed Korean School in Shanghai to be held at the Olympic Theater beginning at 3 o'clock.

The special features are a vocal duet by Mrs. H. S. Kim and Miss Susan Kim and a vocal solo by Mrs. J. K. Hym. These artists have appeared before many important private Korean gatherings in Shanghai as well as in the Hermit kingdom but have not yet made any public appearance here. They are presenting today typically high class Korean music and those who have not yet had the opportunity to hear them before are urged to be present. From the number of reservations being asked, it is expected that a large crowd will attend the affairs.

The program will also consist of a number of well known Russian artists whose talent has already been demonstrated and therefore needs no introduction to the Shanghai public. By coming to the concert one will not only enjoy oneself in seeing something novel but will also by so doing contribute a share to the building of a combined school and church for the Koreans in Shanghai who have been forced to leave their native land and seek hospitality in a strange clime.

Tickets may still be obtained at the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. 206 Lungmen Road and at the box office.

TWO TRY TO DIE AND ARE FOILED

One Leaps Into River And Other Hangs Self To Fence

Two attempts to depart this world were blocked in the Settlement Thursday night and the would-be suicides appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday.

One man, a hawker, had jumped into the Whangpoo from the Yangtsze Road jetty at about 11:30 p.m. and was hauled out by boatmen and turned over to the police.

At about the same hour a Chinese Police Sergeant was patrolling in the Western district when he came to a man suspended by the neck from the top of a bamboo fence. The policeman cut the cord, which had previously done service as the man's belt, and succeeded in reviving him.

The man who tried to drown told the court that he was driven to the act by destitution. He was ordered turned over to the Hsiao Tsing Guild. The other man said he had been gambling and had lost about $100. He had come here from Chekiang, could obtain no more money and could not get back to his native place. He was handed over to the Hui Ning Guild for return to his home.

ASSAILS CHILEAN ADMIRAL

British Coroner's Order For Witnesses Ignored Before Ship Sails

Plymouth, Eng., November 27. —The departure of the Chilean battleship Almirante Latorre this morning with witnesses who had been summoned to appear at a Coroner's inquest over a Chilean sailor has resulted in severe criticism of Admiral Luis Gomez by Coroner Rodd.

This was the fourth time the Chilean witnesses had failed to appear at the adjourned inquest, and when the Coroner was informed that the warship had sailed, he said:

"The conduct of the Chilean Admiral is undoubtedly gross contempt of this court, and were the ship not outside of this jurisdiction the Admiral would be dealt with in the manner he thoroughly deserves. I do not think that any court of justice in this country has ever been treated with greater contempt.

"I shall report the facts to the Chilean Government and hope that the Admiral will be punished in a manner his ungentlemanly conduct deserves."

The witness not being present the coroner was unable to render a verdict on full evidence, the verdict merely stating that the sailor had died from injuries alleged to have been received on shipboard. But whether accidental or otherwise was unknown.

UNPAID TROOPS MENACE HUPEH

Mission Arrives At Peking To Explain Situation To Government

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, January 7.—A commission of five representatives of Tuchun Wang Chan-yuan and Governor Hsia Shou-kang of Hupeh has arrived in Peking to place before the government the serious situation confronting that province in view of the 100,000 unpaid troops there. Those troops, who have received no pay for eight months, are daily growing more restive, and becoming bolder in their threats to loot not only Chinese merchants but foreign concerns and concessions. The government is receiving these representatives and discussing the situation with them, but is unable to promise any relief in the way of funds.

The Wuhan Chambers of Commerce place no confidence in the success of the mission, and are preparing as best they can for an outbreak of lawlessness throughout the province. At the same time, the merchants and gentry are vigorously opposing the attempts of Wang Chan-yuan to raise money for the military by increase of likin and transit dues and other local taxation.

Various legations in the capital are receiving appeals from missionaries and nationals in outlying districts to use their influence to avert a catastrophe which they feel to be impending and which they fear threatens the security of themselves and their work. It is pointed out that the troops which mutinied in Ichang granted no immunity to foreigners and their property.

SKOTTOWE CUP COMPETITION ON TODAY WITH FOUR GAMES; RECS ENTER TWO ELEVENS

Police And Navy Figured To Win Soccer Games This Afternoon; S.R.C. Divides Squad Into "A" And "B" Teams; Other Matches Carded

By "Whistle"

The Skottowe Cup ties have always proved of interest to Shanghai football fans, it is a much coveted trophy and in the past the struggle for possession of it has led to some of the best games that Shanghai has seen. It is unfortunate that the vagaries of the weather have caused the American football game to be staged contemporaneously with the opening round for the Cup.

A fine Saturday afternoon will be such a novelty, however, that there will be sufficient spectators to stimulate all the teams, should such a rare contingency eventuate.

The most noticeable feature of the competing teams is the action of the Recs in dividing up into "A" and "B" teams. This is the real sporting spirit and the Recreation Club is to be congratulated.

Their strongest team would certainly be hot favorites but to split up to make a larger entry against teams like the Xaviers, the Club and the Police is largely jeoparding their chances of the Cup. Well done the "Recs."

One of the most interesting matches wil be the Police and the Public School. The school forwards will keep Quayle busy if they keep up their previous combination, but probably the weight and experience of the guardians will be too much for the schoolboys.

NAVY SHOULD WIN

If the Navy can turn out last Saturday's team they should be able to take charge of the Custom's team without being too exhausted at the finish.

Details of this afternoon's games for the Skottowe Cup are as follows:

1. The Public School Old Boys' team will clash against the Police on the latters' ground with Mr Clifford officiating. The line-up of the police will be Cameron, Clissold and Quayle; McDonald, Adams and Worwood; Watson, Kay, Knight, Ling and Ryle. Reserves: McGregor and Munson.

2. The Customs eleven takes the measure of their Naval opponents in Hongkew Park. Mr. Landers will officiate at the whistle. The line-up of the Customs team will be Steveton, Davis (Capt.) Burge, Coxall, Woodcock, Maggs Borras, Lovelock, A. Barnes, Ogden and Stacey. Reserves. Sinclair and Martin.

XAVIERS vs. RECS "A"

3. The St. Xaviers Footballers will compete with the "A" team of the S.R.C. on the Shanghai Football Club Ground. Mr. Boyling will be the referee. The following will represent the St. Xaviers F. C.:—W. Garry, P. Oliveiros (Capt.) and V. Elliott; W. Favacho, C. Encarnacao and E. Schneider; F. Gutierrez, F. Reed, G. Silva, H. Favacho and T. Aldeguer. Linesman: A. M. Gutierrez.

The team of the S. R. C. will consist of A. H. Remedios: L. P. Quincey and B. H. Smith; S. Emamooden, E. F. Mears and F. C. H. Ollerdessen; A. V. White, T. S. D. Wade, J. McLachlan, G. Norris and T. W. R. Wilson

Reserves: A. L. Biggs, A. Sofoulis and G. N. Manley. Linesman: C. Thompson.

4. The Shanghai Football Club will compete for honors with the "B" Team of the S.R.C. on the latters' ground, Mr. Fulton refereeing. The Football Club will be represented by A. McLean, W. J. Brown, G. F. Forshaw, C. K. Smith, J. Robertson (Capt.) M. Seredkin, B. Lawrie-Smith, V. B. Glover E. T. Nash, L. J. Coulcher and A. H. Leslie. Reserves: F. Shaffer, J. E. R. Harris and A. Deer. Linesman: S. Starling.

THREE OTHER GAMES

The personnel of the "B" Team of the Recs will be G. J. Canda (Capt.); J. Mahon and J. Xavier: J. L. Wade, C. J. Smith and W. T. Manley; G. Johannson, E. J. Cooke, R. J. S. Brandt, G. Sofoulis and G. A. Drairseldt. Reserves: A. Ferguson, G. E. Marshall and T. Emamooden.

Of the three other games, the B. A. T. team in their match with the Internationals will consist of Hebron, Kabelitz and Witschi; Canda, Smedley and Brockett; Boyde, Richardson, Hennessey, Jorge and Rowson. Reserves: Manfield, Britto and Clark.

The Marine Engineers, in the contest with the Rangers, will send the following eleven into the field: G. F. Powers, J. E. Grant and L. J. Skelton; R. J. Tomlinson, (Capt.) J. E. Soppitt and S. Howard; G. Huggert, J. T. Robinson, V. B. Glover, R. Campbell and H. Adam. Reserves: R. Mills, R. Macdonald and G. Butchart. Linesman: D. M. Couch.

The Rangers line-up is as follows:

Wilson, G. Day and Rawsthorne; A. Johnson, Staley and J. Henry; J. Johnston, H. Nash, Smith, Evans and Atkinson. Reserves: Gulston. Linesman: Jacobs. Mr. M. Johnson will referee the game.

The Police team, which meets the Xaviers second eleven at Widow's Monument, will be represented by Hotchkiss, Munson and Robertson, Norton, McGregor and Crowley, Crompton, Carnell, Bouvier, Conduit and Thurgood.

RACES ON TODAY TO AID FUND OF WAR MEMORIAL

New Year Meeting, With Four Races, Scheduled For This Afternoon

Fair weather is predicted today for the new year's first program of races of the Shanghai Race Club. The card to be offered will be the New Year's Races postponed from the holiday season by reason of snow and wet weather.

As an added inducement to bring out the crowd the management of the Shanghai Race Club has announced that no admission charge will be made. The entire proceeds for the day are to be donated by the Race Club to the fund being raised for the War Memorial to the men who went from Shanghai and lost their lives in the war. The memorial, a classic monument, is to rise at the foot of Avenue Edward VII at the junction of the Bunds of the French Concession and the International Settlement.

Due to mid-winter weather the program will consist of but four events which are to be started at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. What the events will be and the conditions have not been announced by the Race Club, but it is stated that all the leading stables of Shanghai will be represented on the track by their fastest ponies.

The U. S. S. Elcano basketball team will play at St. John's University tonight. Prof. Porterfield has had his collegians working for some days and the sailors will meet a fast team The game will be in the St. John's gymnasium and is to start at 8 o'clock.

Capt. Paillou (QB)

Hewitt (E)

Even the weather man is for it. He says "Overcast, but probably improving."

Sounds like a description of the civilian eleven.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock American football teams representing Shanghai and the U. S. S. New Orleans will start a 50-minute battle which should bring recollections to some and an idea of the American version of "football" to others.

And those who care nothing for memories and less for American football can buy tickets anyway for each dollar which is obtained through the sale of tickets will go to the Women's Famine Relief Society.

The sporting writer of the Kankakee Gazette would forecast the afternoon as an auspicious one. There is to be organised cheering, a uniformed band which will start playing half an hour before the game starts, a doctor on hand with the inevitable bandages and iodine, fair ladies, furs 'neverything.

LOADS OF OPPOSITION

Dozens of sporting attractions are carded for this afternoon—races, rugby, soccer, cross-country running—all on the w.k. list except the 'unt, but for the American community this clash between the sailors and civilians will hold the center of the stage.

And it really should be a bang-up exhibition. The sailors have been working for over a month and have even been scrimmaging. They are well-trained, in good condition and have their signals down pat. Quarterback Paillou will have a snappy, though light, aggregation to pilot this afternoon.

The civilians are a group of stars. Nearly every man has won spurs or whatever one wins on college gridirons. The rest have at least high-school letters.

Directed by a varsity quarter, Earle of Rutgers, the landsmen will have an intelligent and powerful football team. Cy Wilhoit and Giauque on the ends; Stovall and Marsden as tackles; Emerson and Boone for the guard positions and Anderson, the pivot man will make a husky line. Behind Earle will be Maloney, Rodger and Hutchinson. This is the way the Shanghai team will start but there will be numerous changes which will give Neale, H. F. Hewitt, C. B. Hewitt, Brown, Keays, Gold, and others.

CIVILIANS HEAVIER

The civilian eleven will average about 190, some 20 pounds more than the Navy but the sailors' speed and team play should make the game very even.

Nearly all the arrangements for the game have been completed. The field will be laid out this morning and Manager Johnny Knowlan is to secure the services of several ladies to aid in selling the tickets. He is also on a still hunt for whistles, a horn and a stop watch for the officials. Incidentally the men in charge of the game have had experience and know the rules.

Through the kindness of the Chinese authorities, the Arsenal Band is to provide music beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The American School student body has chartered a special car and will attend the game in a body. The Yankee schoolboys have been practicing songs and cheers and they will divide the organised plaudits—although with Charley Giauque in uniform, they will probably be a little bit prejudiced in favor of the landsmen.

TICKET SALE GOOD

Dr. F. B. Baldwin has kindly promised to be on hand with the little medicine chest in case any of the boys get hurt.

It was decided last night to manifest appreciation of work done by the Boy Scouts in allowing the lads to see the game free. They will be admitted to any section of the field.

The sale of tickets has been encouraging. Nearly 300 have been sold without much effort and probably 700 will be sold today. Slides at the various movie theaters have been shown through the kindness of the managers and the Tramway Company will carry posters today advertising the game. This publicity has been made possible through the kindness of Mr. D. McColl, general manager of the Shanghai Electric Construction Company.

Score cards, printed by THE CHINA PRESS, will be distributed so that spectators may know the names of the various players.

DINE NAVY TEAM

The Navy team just can't lose. It has been fixed already for the sailor eleven to dine at the Navy Y. M. C. A. after the game and the chow will be followed by an entertainment. Lieutenant Ferris, athletic officer of the U. S. S. New Orleans and Mr. McCloy, of the Y. M. C. A. National Committee Physical Department, will be present.

Secretary Durbin, who has helped make possible today's game, announces that Rex Beach's story "The Brand," will be screened as the feature of a movie program to be given for the players.

FIVE CALIFORNIA MEN ON VARNELL'S ALL-STAR ELEVEN

Washington State Gets Three And Oregon Two; One From Stanford

Five of the eleven places on the mythical all-Pacific Coast conference football team chosen by Judge M. Varnell, conference referee, this season, are awarded to the University of California. Washington State College, with three places, is next in order, the University of Oregon obtained two players and Stanford one. Oregon Agricultural College and Washington got no representation. The selections were announced here today.

California men named on the first team include: Muller, end; Major, guard; McMillan, tackle; Berkey, end, and Sprott, halfback.

Stanford's representative is Templeton at halfback.

The second team includes: Rose, O. A. C., end; Clark, Washington, tackle; Mautz, Oregon, guard; Smith. Washington, center; Cramer, California, guard; Pershing, Stanford, tackle; Faulk, Washington, end; Erb, California, quarterback; Toomey, California, halfback; Eckman, Washington, halfback; Kasberger, O. A. C., fullback.

"The team selected as the first lineup has weight, a sprinkling of real speed and both defensive and offensive power," said Varnell in regard to his selections. "The eleven has punting and field goal strength and passers and receivers for aerial work making in all an ideal combination."

Washington Loses Five Veterans

Five veterans are certain to be missing from the University of Washington football squad next fall, according to Coach Leonard Allison.

Captain Ted Faulk, left end; Larry Smith, center; Harold Glen, guard, and Bob Abel, quarterback and end, will be lost to the Sun Dodgers through graduation. Ervin Dailey, right halfback, is a law student and has one more year to complete his course, but has played three years on the varsity, which makes him ineligible to play intercollegiate football next year.

TOLEDO DESIRES ANOTHER CRACK AT TITLE BOUT

Negotiations Opened For Staging Of Scrap Between George And Jails

Toledo has announced itself as in the field to promote the Dempsey-Carpentier fight. Negotiations have been opened between Jack Kearns and Ad Thatcher with a view to handling the bout. Thatcher received a wire from Kearns asking him to "look over the ground and report."

Ad has declared he will seek a permit from the boxing commission and then be ready to proceed. One would imagine, after the Dempsey-Willard match in Toledo in 1919, in which the promoters are reputed to have made no money that the Toledo folks would hardly be anxious for a repeat. However, "hope springs eternal in the human breast."

It still remains that New York is the logical spot where the United States is concerned and if not New York then some place in Jersey State.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WILL STAGE BOXING FINALS TODAY; SIX GOOD BOUTS ARE SCHEDULED

Last Round In Bantam Weight, Fly Weight And Midget Divisions To Be Held This Afternoon Beginning At 3:45 o'Clock; Three Special Contests Also On Card

Finals of the annual boxing championship of the Shanghai Public School, will begin at the school hall at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. By virtue of their brilliant victories in the semi finals yesterday afternoon, Young and Johansen will compete in the Bantamweight Championship; Deitrick fights Cooke for the Flyweight Title; and Stanion and young Noblston clash for the midget crown.

In addition to the finals for the championship, three special contests will be staged for decision. They are between Seisem and Wittsack, White, of the British Gunboat Foxglove, and Toledo Dawson of the British Gunboat Kinsha, and Berry of the Foxglove.

Judging from the numbers that have been witnessing the contests yesterday and Thursday, a big crowd is expected to throng the school hall this afternoon. Mrs. G. M. Billings, wife of the headmaster of the school, has kindly consented to distribute the prizes, which are donated by Messrs. Robert Rose, Henry Lester, E. H. Gilson, C. E. Shepherd, G. M. Billings, P. W. Bennett, and H. M. Cumine and Messrs. Asiatic Petroleum Co., Ltd., Burroughs Wellcome and Co. and Squires Bingham.

YOUNG EASY WINNER

Yesterday's contests went off without a hitch. A great deal of clever boxing was exhibited and much of the work would have done credit to professionals.

In the Bantamweight division, Rowland made a weak attempt to stop Young, but failed. The latter simply had a walk over as Rowland gave in at the opening of the tilt owing to an injured arm. The bout between Landau and Johansen was a very spirited affair but Johansen forced matters wisely and got the verdict by clever boxing.

Coming to the Flyweights, there was little to choose between Deitrick and Karanjia. Both wanted to win. Deitrick forced matters to a point and secured the decision from the judges.

The bout put up by Cooke and Jack could not be classed strictly in the "fireworks" class. Both were very cautious in the opening session. But by his cool and determined manner of punching, Cooke won.

BROTHERS ARE CLASS

Of the midgets, Stanions had a tough proposition in his opponent Beesley, but his ring craft and a fast straight left brought him the honors.

The tilt between the Nobiston brothers was the classic of the day, winning the admiration of all those present by their art. The younger brother, however, won on points and rounds of applause greeted both when the decision was rendered.

Yesterday's program was further featured by a special bout between Seaman Edom of the Foxglove and A. F. Wilson. The seaman had the better of the exchanges and won on points.

LONDON HOSPITAL CUP CONPETITION TO BE HELD SOON

S.R.A. Committee Prepares Entry Blanks Which May Now Be Obtained

The Committee of the Shanghai Rifle Association has drawn up the conditions for the London Hospital Cup shoot, and with the competition confined to service rifles only with open sights, a good entry should be looked for.

The shoot will be 10 rounds deliberate 200 yards, second class figure and ten rapid, 30 seconds allowed, five only in magazines this so as not to handicap men with carbines.

Entry forms are out and can be obtained from Mr. A. M. Collaco, care of Russo-Asiatic Bank; Sergt. Lambert, care of Ewo, or Mr. H. Tobias, care of Lazaras and Co., Nanking Road, and where the cup is on view.

London men in Shanghai and others are reminded of the fact that even if unable to shoot for the cup, they can come along and assist the good cause, by sending in a donation however small, to swell the funds.

"The boys of good old London" made things hum in the war by sending some 30 battalions of the Royal Fusiliers (The City Regiment,) and over 100 battalions of Terriers including several of the famous London Scottish and London Irish, also some Welsh.

"Don't let the lads of 'the little old village' out here lag behind, but make things hum here in the cause of London's greatest Hospital," says the circular sent to possible entrants.

Automobile Tests To Cut Down Use Of Petrol In England

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 6.—A series of motor-car trials has been held at Brooklands track with a view to petrol saving, and has been highly successful.

Six cars were submitted to a standardised test, wherein the carburettor jet was reduced. The result was an average increase in mileage for the amount of fuel consumed of 22 percent, while the loss in maximum speed was only two miles an hour.

It is computed that the adoption of the new scheme will lead to the economisation of forty million gallons of petrol annually.

COOLIDGE TRACES PROGRESS CAUSES

Modern Civilisation Sustained By Technical Skill And Invested Capital, He Says

BOTH RESULT OF BRAINS

Experience Refutes Claims Of Evil Forces, He Tells Amherst Alumni

New York, Nov. 28.—Vice President-elect Calvin Coolidge was the speaker last night at the dinner of the Amherst Alumni in the Hotel Pennsylvania. He took time from his duties as Governor of Massachusetts and of preparation for his national office to deliver a dissertation upon education and upon economics.

"The strongest sentiment of America has been for that independence which is the basis of self-government," said the Vice President-elect. "It was only when the people fell away from their adherence to their ideals that the disintegration began which ended in the final downfall of the nations of antiquity.

"It has but lately been demonstrated to the fullest extent that the self-governing peoples of the modern world are strong and vigorous, still true to their traditions, still loyal to their ideals. Such a condition has always indicated a sound foundation in the past and must be the best index of it in the present.

"Our modern life is very complex. Its conduct is dependent on technical skill. Strike out what is known of physics, and substantially every mechanical device, all transportation by power-driven motors, all manufacturing, heating and lighting plants, water supply and drainage would fail to operate; strike out chemistry, and pestilence would overwhelm the earth in a few days.

VALUE OF CAPITAL

"But it is not only by technical skill that modern civilisation is sustained. It depends to a large degree on accumulated and invested capital and for its advance will depend more and more on accumulation and investment of capital. Civilisation and profits go hand in hand.

"Invested capital is the result of brains. All the elements that are assembled in a Corliss engine, a modern printing press, or an airplane have lain in the earth throughout all the ages. For countless generations there has been sufficient human labor to assemble them, yet they did not appear. They came into being only when called by the skill and brain of men. The same is true of the plant whereby is carried on all modern business. It is on the continued existence of this power in man which is the result of effort and training that not only the advance but the maintenance of our present standards exists.

"But there is need not only of patriotic ideals and a trained intelligence in our economic life. there is need of a deep understanding of man and his relationship to the physical universe and to his fellow man.

"There has always been evil, in the world. There are evil forces at work now. They are apparently organised and seek the disintegration of society. They deny that the present relationship of men to each other which exists by reason of organised society has any sound basis for its existence. They point out to men with untrained minds that it takes effort to maintain themselves and support Government and claim that they ought to exist without effort on the accumulations of others, and the denial that men have any obligations toward each other.

"The answer to this lies in a knowledge of past human experience and a realisation of what man is. These claims are very old. They have had trial times without number and always with disastrous results. Men are not so constituted that selfishness satisfies them, and the only result of attempting to evade their obligations to others has been to destroy themselves. Surely the wonderful experience of man shows he is a being which can only be satisfied with higher things than these."

Governor Coolidge spoke of the forward steps taken by higher education in this country, and added:

"With these manifestations all about what wonder that while the rest of the world is in turmoil America is serene. This glory we owe in no small part to the all-embracing influence of our colleges and universities. They have wrought mightily in the making of America. While they can command support America cannot fail. They stand like mighty fortresses within whose protection the truth is secure. Against them no enemy shall prevail."

The Vice President-e'ect was introduced by William C. Breed, a member of Amherst's class of 1893, who recalled when Governor Coolidge entered college as a freshman in 1891, to be graduated in 1895. He spoke of Governor Coolidge with Henry Ward Beecher as illustrious graduates.

Forty Amherst alumni dinners were held last night in this country for the purpose of beginning a campaign for $3,000,000 to present to the college next June on the 100th anniversary of its founding, for better salaries and more equipment. One of the slogans of the campaign is Coolidge won by 6,000,000. Amherst needs 3,000,000." Messages were exchanged by diners in various cities. Governor Coolidge gave New York's message from more than 1,000 diners to a similar number in Boston by long distance telephone. Dwight W. Morrow, partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan and Co., received his message in Boston.

Praise For Italian Consul In New York

Rome, November 27.—The appointment of Adolfo Rossi as Italian Consul General in New York City is favorably commented upon here.

Signor Rossi is a self-made man and was born in 1857. He went to the United States when a young man and worked as a miner. Later he joined the staff of an Italian newspaper in New York City, beginning a journalistic career which ended in 1909. In that year, after having been one of the leading members of the staffs of the Tribuna and Roma, Signor Rossi entered the consular service.

Just before his appointment as Consul General in New York Signor Rossi was Italian Minister and Consul General in Asuncion, Paraguay. His new post is considered the highest in the Italian consular service.

Signor Rossi has written a book about the United States and has been a pioneer in organising protection for Italian emigrants. The late Pope Pius X, held Signor Rossi in high esteem.

The Way For Labor To Help

[From the Hartford Times]

"If labor will join whole-heartedly in "doing its share" to eliminate evils which have contributed toward unemployment it will reduce unemployment to the minimum, and the most important thing for labor to do is for it to increase production. A fair day's work for a fair day's pay should be a point of honor with every man, whether his labor is manual or mental.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given your physician know of whatto your children unless you or it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

WILLYS-KNIGHT TOURING CAR

DRIVEN BY THE FAMOUS SLEEVE-VALVE MOTOR

Sleeve-valves mean: silence, speed, economy, increased power, a minimum of carbon deposit, flexibility and simplicity. These are advantages which no motorist should ignore.

The Willys-Knight car is a beautiful acquisition. There are no crudities of design to jar one's sensibilities; there are no false economies in its construction.

When you have bought the Willys-Knight, 40 H. P. Touring Car, you have acquired the acme of perfection in motor design; the culminating point at which experts have arrived and challenged the world.

The tonneau and front compartments are roomy and luxurious, the upholstery being hand-buffed leather. The long wheel-base and cantilever springs absorb all the shocks resultant from an uneven road.

We do not want you to accept this without the evidence of your own senses, and we extend to you a cordial invitation to inspect this model for yourself.

Problems of Love and Marriage

Solved by Leonore Carfax.

MY husband has advanced from a moderate salary of $250 a month and he expects another increase before long. We are buying our home, some additional furniture and a piano on the small weekly payment plan, and these payments, together with our regular household expenses, consume nearly the entire $250. My husband now wants to buy an automobile in anticipation of another raise in salary. I do not know much about business, but I feel uneasy for fear he is attempting too much.—L. C.

Your husband's increase in salary is no doubt largely due to the unnatural conditions of the present time. Whatever you are purchasing now you are contracting to pay for at highly inflated prices. Is it not likely that when conditions change so many people will be out of employment that salaries will automatically drop? But, of course, the high prices you have agreed to pay for your home and furniture will remain fixed. Under these circumstances it is difficult to see how you are going to keep up your payments. It seems like a very poor policy to overextend one's credit during these critical times.

I HAVE been engaged to a young man for two years. The other evening he telephoned me that he could not call at the usual time as he had a business engagement. The next morning my brother began teasing me because he had seen my fiance at the theatre with another girl. He has called twice to see me since that evening and I have refused to see him or answer his telephone calls. I am broken-hearted over the affair, but I do not see how I can even give him a chance to explain without sacrificing my self-respect.—M. S.

If things were as bad as they look to be on the surface it might be best for you to see as little of your fiance as possible in the future; but there is always a possibility of a satisfactory explanation. For your future peace of mind it would be much better to see him and give him every opportunity to explain his unusual conduct. So many unnecessary lifelong estrangements have resulted from a refusal to listen to an explanation from the only one who is in a position to know all the facts in the case. If he has really been as deceitful as he appear to be, you would be foolish to waste any further time on him.

How To Plan Meals

EACH meal should be a unit in itself, but at the same time the meals should be planned for several days at a time, so as to avoid repetition and unevenness of quantity. It might be possible to obtain from oatmeal and macaroni alone a good part of the food elements necessary, but a meal consisting of these two foods and nothing else would be unsatisfactory. Variety stimulates the appetite.

It is also well, says Lucile Stimson Harvey in her new book, "Food Facts for the Home-Maker," to consider the harmonious blending of flavor, color, texture and temperature of foods. It is more satisfactory on a cold day to begin a meal with a hot dish such as soup instead of chilled grapefruit. So also we would not like to repeat similar flavors in the same meal. If we serve a tomato bisque soup, a tomato sauce with the meat course or a tomato salad is to be avoided.

There are some dishes which seem to go together naturally, such as peas with lamb chops, currant jelly with venison, cheese with cold apple pie, and bacon with liver. Some other dishes, which we find in constant use, however, are not such wise combinations as these. In chicken or lobster salad we have so much fat in connection with protein material that the salad is difficult to digest. The same is true with bacon and eggs.

Griddle cakes also as usually eaten with a large amount of butter and syrup are not a food for a person with a delicate digestion, since the starch is so rapidly cooked that it is not cooked thoroughly.

Beauty's Question Box

PLEASE let me know what will help a neck that looks old?—D. M.

Massaging the neck with a nourishing cold cream every night will be found helpful. One of the best exercises I have discovered for filling out those telltale hollows in the neck and throat is to rise upon the tips of the toes at the moment of inhalation. Hold the breath for one minute, throwing it forcibly against the muscles of the throat and neck; then exhale slowly with your mouth open and come down on your heels. Do this ten times night and morning, beginning at first with only five counts and extending it gradually.

MY arms are much too small. How can I enlarge both the upper arm and the forearm?—R. B.

The arms can be made pretty and plump by feeding them with olive oil or cocoa butter. Both of these are fattening agents. Patience and the thoroughly daily application of one of these will greatly improve the thinnest arms in the world. But you must exercise also. Holding the arms straight out at the sides and moving them round and round in a circle is a good arm developer. Sweeping is likewise splendid for developing a well-rounded arm, while of the out-of-door sports, swimming and tennis are both excellent for this purpose.

WON'T you please tell me of a quick way to get rid of blackheads?—L. D.

The remedy is obvious. You must keep the skin absolutely clean with the use of warm water and castile soap. Massage the following cream carefully into the skin, leaving it on for a half an hour only, and then remove the cream with a soft cloth or a bit of cotton:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lard (purs) | 50 grams |
| Resorcin (dissolved in alcohol) | 2½ grams |

Household Helps

Stronger Buttonholes.

TO strengthen buttonholes and prevent their tearing at the edges place two rows of machine stitching around each one.

Fresh Ham.

A HAM that has been cut may be kept from moulding by covering the exposed surface with Indian meal.

Salting Your Dresses.

IF the colors in a wash dress start to run put some salt in the water in which it is being washed to set the colors.

Grinding Crumbs.

WHEN grinding bread crumbs slip a quart fruit jar over the top of the grinder and hold it in place with one hand to prevent the crumbs flying.

IS there anything I could use to make my hair grow thick? It is long, but very thin.—E. F.

Give your hair a daily but not too strenuous brushing and shampoo it thoroughly every two weeks with warm water and castile soap. Brushing alone, however, is not a sufficient stimulant for the scalp, which needs a thorough massage at least three times a week. After this treatment apply the following hair tonic, rubbing it well into the roots of the hair with the tips of the fingers:

| | |
|---|---|
| Alcohol (95 per cent) | 4 ounces |
| Quinine | 15 grains |
| Castor oil | ⅛ ounce |

WILL you please publish a formula for a massage cream to reduce the bust? Also tell me how to massage it correctly.—K. N.

I do not think it wise for you to attempt to reduce the bust without first asking your own physician's advice. When you have obtained his consent to do so then you may apply this astringent cream, given below, to this region, rubbing it first on the under part of the bust and working up toward the nipple, repeating the same movement from above downward. Care must be exercised not to press too hard or roughly upon this very delicate region.

The Delicious Cake Fillings

By Mary Lee Swann,

Orange Filling.

BEAT 1 egg, add 1 cup sugar, the grated rind and juice of 1 orange and 2 tablespoons butter. Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Cool before spreading.

Apple Filling.

GRATE 1 large apple. Mix with 2 tablespoons lemon juice and ¾ cup sugar and heat over hot water. Beat 1 egg well, add ¼ cup sugar and stir into the hot apple mixture. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add 1 tablespoon butter. Beat well and cool before spreading.

Nut Caramel Icing.

COOK ½ cup sugar to the caramel stage, add 2 tablespoons boiling water and dissolve the caramel. Boil 1 cup granulated sugar and ¼ cup boiling water until the syrup spins a thread when dropped from tip of spoon. Add the caramel mixture and again cool until the syrup spins a thread. Pour drop by drop on stiffly beaten white of 1 egg, beating constantly until very stiff. Add chopped nuts and spread.

Lord Baltimore Cake Filling.

BOIL 1½ cups sugar with ½ cup boiling water until syrup spins a thread. Then pour gradually on 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Add ½ cup powdered macaroons, ¼ cup finely chopped pecan meats, ¼ cup shredded almonds, 10 or 12 finely chopped candied cherries and a few drops each of lemon and orange extract.

Lady Baltimore Cake Filling.

COOK 3 cups sugar with 1 cup boiling water until syrup spins a thread. Cover syrup during first few minutes of boiling, so that crystals will not form on sides of pan. Pour slowly, while beating constantly, on 3 stiffly beaten egg whites, and continue beating until stiff enough to spread. Add 1 cup finely chopped raisins, 1 cup chopped pecan meats and 2 or 3 shredded figs. A few chopped candied cherries are sometimes added. Spread between layers of Lady Baltimore cake. Cover cake with White Mountain cream.

Lemon Filling.

MIX 1 cup sugar with 3 tablespoons sifted flour, add grated rind of 2 lemons, ¼ cup strained lemon juice and 1 slightly beaten egg. Melt ½ tablespoon butter in saucepan, add mixture and stir constantly until it boils. Cool before spreading.

Maple Nut Icing.

COOK ½ pound grated or scraped maple sugar with ¼ cup boiling water until syrup spins a thread. Pour slowly on 1 stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly. Beat well, add ½ cup chopped nut meat and heat until stiff enough to spread. May be used for filling and icing.

Cream Filling.

MIX ⅞ cup sugar with ½ cup sifted flour and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add 2 slightly beaten eggs and gradually add 2 cups scalded milk. Cook over hot water about 20 minutes, stirring constantly until thick, and afterward occasionally. Cool and flavor as desired. For a change use ½ teaspoon vanilla and ¼ teaspoon almond.

Chocolate Cream Filling.

MELT 1½ ounces chocolate over hot water, add ¾ cup milk gradually and scald. Then thicken with ¼ cup flour dissolved in ¼ cup milk. Cook until smooth and creamy, stirring constantly. Beat ½ cup sugar with 1 egg and a few grains of salt and add to hot mixture. Cook over hot water about 15 minutes, stirring frequently to prevent lumping. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cool before spreading. One-half cup grated cocoanut may be added just before removing from the fire.

Pistachio Filling.

MIX ¾ cup sugar and ¼ cup milk and heat slowly to boiling point. Boil 5 or 6 minutes. Chop ¼ pound marshmallows, put them in top of double boiler over hot water, add 2 tablespoons hot water to marshmallows and cook until mixture is smooth. Add the sugar and milk syrup, beating constantly until cool. Add 4 drops almond extract and ¼ cup finely chopped pistachio nuts.

B.P. BOY SCOUTS ADMIT MEMBE S

First Parade Of Year Held At Cathedral Schools On Thursday

At the first parade of the year of the B. P. Boy Scouts held Thursday afternoon in the Cathedral Schools, the 1st Shanghai, B. P. Boy Scouts (Cathedral School Troops) had a most interesting time.

The District Scout-master F. C. Millington was present to inspect the Troop and the Reverend W. Robbins, Chaplain, was present to distribute the badges earned by those newly joining as 'Tenderfoot' Boy Scouts supported by Scout-master A. A. G. Toone and Assistant Scout-master R. G. Penfold.

Following a brief talk on the seriousness of taking the oath and responsibility before God of carrying it out, not only at the present time, but in all the future, each candidate was required to repeat the oath as following:

On my honor I promise as far as I am able to

A. Honor God and the King.

B. To serve other people at all times.

C. To obey the Scout Law.

This oath was taken at the Scout's Salute in front of the Troop and the new Scout then received his Scout's badge.

District Scout-master Millington then spoke on the importance of the second clause of the oath, and his own experience of its becoming a habit even in later life, the significance of the Scout's Salute and the brotherhood of Scouts.

The parade was brought to a conclusion after a short time spent in various forms of hand-wrestling.

Anecdotes Of The Famous

"No room in the White House is better known to the public than the East Room," says a bulletin of the National Geographical Society. "It, too, has memories of a cruder democracy when all Washington flocked there to 'follow about the servants who carried refreshments, seizing upon whatever they could get,' and upon one occasion two 'ladies' perched upon the chimney piece to get a better view of the colorful scene.

"Strange were the gifts to Presidents of earlier years. Strangest of all, perhaps was the cheese sent to Thomas Jefferson, with the admiring inscription 'The greatest cheese in America.' It was conveyed to Jefferson by a six-horse team. He insisted upon paying for it, and it lasted for more than a year, being the piece de resistance of many a state dinner in the meantime."

* * *

A certain naturalist who maintains that we hear only that to which our ears are attuned tells how once, in a noisy New York street, he heard the sound of a cricket hidden in a basement window. No one else appeared to hear it, though every passerby promptly stopped and looked round when the naturalist tossed a dime on the sidewalk a few seconds later. The following anecdote also bears out the theory propounded above. The late Sir Arthur Sullivan, the composer, and Sir Alexander Mackenzie once found that they had forgotten the number of a house to which they were invited. Sir Alexander protested that all he knew was that the door scraper was E flat. So "away they went, kicking the door scrapers along the row," until at last Sir Arthur exclaimed. "Here we are; this is E flat!" It was the right house.

Cotton

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their cotton market report dated today.

China Cotton:—During the early part of the week our market continued dullish but toward the close there transpired a little more of activity than has been experienced for some time past and due to the little demand on the part of local Mills prices rose about four mace higher than the level last attained and whereon a fair volume of business may be said to have been consummated.

As to the immediate future trend of the market taking into consideration the upward tendency in Mid-Americans and Indians one may deduce a sympathetic improvement also in prices on the local staple provided always the Yarn Markets show more revivifying symptoms of pressure by consumers. Tone of the market Steady.

The Menace To Rumania

NEWS that the Bolsheviki are massing armies on the Rumanian frontier, shows that that little country, grown much larger as a result of the war settlement, is not yet out of the woods. It also discloses the Bolshevik determinaton gradually to win back for Russia all the territory that was under the rule of the Czar in 1914, with perhaps the exception of Russian Poland. Furthermore it brings on a new European entanglement, for what will the Entente and the League of Nations do about it? France especially will feel herself impelled to act in defense of Rumania.

A recent issue of The Literary Digest sets forth that Rumania's area in 1914 was 53,489 square miles. With the additions of Transylvania, Bukovina and Bessarabia this territory was enlarged to 122,282 square miles, and the population was increased from 7,771,341 to 17,393,149. "We have achieved what was our dream for more than a thousand years," said the new Rumanian Foreign Minister, Take Jonescu, in a recent speech in London, as quoted by the London Telegraph. "We are now in a position to show whether we are worthy or not of the sacrifices that have been made for us."

The state of Rumania as it existed prior to the war, as Prof. Basil Stoica, now a Commissioner of the Rumanian Government in New York, observes in a recent article in the New York Tribune, was formed in 1359, by the union of Moldavia and Wallachia, which had both existed as consolidated states since the early twelfth century, and were from the beginning of the sixteenth down to their union autonomous principalities under Turkish suzeralnty. The pressure of the Magyars on the west, of the Muscovites on the northeast, and of the Turks on the south, pressed the kingdom into the peculiar shape which it presented at the beginning of the war.

Of the large territories which it has annexed, Transylvania is generally admitted to be preponderantly Rumanian in nationality. The annexation of Bessarabia, which formerly belonged to Russia, has been attacked by ex-Premier Kerensky and others as a plain theft of Russian territory. Professor Stoica, answering this contention in a booklet called "Bessarabia" (George H. Doran Company), says that Bessarabia was ceded to Russia by the Turks in 1812, when "save for the southeastern corner of the province, the population was everywhere purely Rumanian," and only the fringe along the sea was in reality a Turkish province. The two Turkish commissioners were afterward beheaded for giving up this territory, which was not theirs to give, says Professor Stoica, and Russia has held it by force ever since. Answering the objection that "the present population of Bessarabia is about 2,500,000 and the Moldavian part of it constitutes less than 50 percent," the Professor writes in a letter to the New York Tribune:

"Indeed, according to the official Russian statistics of 1897, the Rumanians form 48 percent of the Bessarabian population; the Russians and Ukrainians together, 19 percent; Jews, 11 percent; Bulgarians, 5 percent; Germans, 3 percent; the remainder being small groups of Moslem colonists. Even accepting these data as correct, which they are not, by what right would 19 percent Russians and Ukrainians (by the way, two distinct nationalities, who hate one another cordially) overrule the will of 48 percent? But the Russian Minister of Education, Casso, says in his book, 'Russia on the Danube': 'The information received by the central department on Bessarabia is not correct. . . . The Russian Year-Book of 1910, published by the Central Committee on Statistics of the Department of the Interior, in enumerating the nationalities of Bessarabia, does not even mention the Moldavian nation, although this nation forms more than half of the province's population.'"

Ukrainia, to the northward, which at first objected to the Rumanian annexation of Bessarabia, on July 31 formally accepted the new arrangement and sent a consul to Kishinef. But the Ukraine has now been fairly well reconquered by the Bolsheviki.

The present government of Rumania is headed by King Ferdinand I., nephew of the late King Carol, whom he succeeded on October 11, 1914. A Constituent Assembly, elected early last summer, has had its hands full unifying the different constitutions of the Old Kingdom, Bessarabia, Bukovina, and Transylvania.

There are some three million Jews in the country, according to figures collected by the Encyclopedia Britannica. They constitute one-twentieth of the entire population, said to be "a larger proportion than in any other country."

About 80 percent of the entire Rumanian population are engaged in agriculture. In 1900 the country was third, after the United States and Russia, in the production of grain.

If the Ukraine had been able to maintain its independence against the Bolsheviki the present crisis would not have arisen, but the collapse of Gen. Wrangel, to a large extent, at least, put an end to the Ukraine's resistance. Bessarabia is a fertile district of large extent lying between the Dniester and Pruth rivers. With the Ukraine it formed the greatest grain growing district of Russia. In the present famished condition of Europe, it is nothing short of tragic to think of this huge and fruitful district being once more devastated by war. Yet how can it be prevented?

Bullying The Bench

[From the New York World]

Considering that the Anti-Saloon League claims to control more than 400 members of the new House of Representatives, with a corresponding supremacy in the Senate, Wayne B. Wheeler's statement that the close corporation of which he is chief counsel intends to demand the passage of new Prohibition enforcement acts is no idle threat. The Anti-Salcon Ltague has proved its mastery of the Congress of the United States more than once.

First in importance on the program of this secret society is a measure defining misconduct on the part of Federal judges who hold office during good behavicr. Charges against these officers at the present time must be lodged with the House of Representatives. If they are serious enough to warrant impeachment, trial of the issue devolves upon the Senate. The purpose of the Anti-Saloon League is to simplify matters. Rulings from the bench which contravene in any way the predetermined policy of the private legal department of which Mr. Wheeler is the head will be defined as misbehavior within the meaning of the Constitution, and impeachment, conviction and removal will follow.

Assuming that some such bill is certain of adoption if Mr. Wheeler insists on it, we can do no less than urge his humble servants in Congress to make the act more comprehensive. Judges sometimes run counter to the views of eminent counsel for the railroads; therefore let boards of directors say where misbehavior begins. Occasionally the New York Stock Exchange receives a hump in judicial circles, hence the board of governors should be qualified to fix the degree of the magistrate's guilt. So many other interests occur to the mind that a well-disposed Congress will see the necessity at once of taking a broad view of the subject. In no other way can it make a workmanlike job of a piece of deviltry as well conceived as any of recent record.

One Prohibition Croesus

[From the Springfield Unions "On the Firing Line"]

"All that I am I owe to prohibition," remarked the well-dressed and prosperous-looking individual to his companion as they stepped out of his luxurious limousine. "Indeed, and are you a reformed-er-er-toper?" inquired his companion. "Not on your life," replied the prosperous gent. "I'm the manufacturer of a very popular hair oil containing a high percentage of alcohol."

FORTHCOMING PRODUCTION

Mr. Asquith threatens to follow in Margot's footsteps, and to publish bits from his diary. Probably we shall have something of this sort, says R. M. in London Opinion:

MY DIARY

By Henry Asquith.

July, 1914.—Attended the Conference at Buckingham Palace to settle the Home Rule question. Great difficulty in arranging matters. Carson and Redmond were both adamant, and both threatened civil war. Lloyd George suggested nine compromises in succession without result. All at once the door opened, and She came in dressed like an Irish colleen, and danced a jig. "That'll put you all in better temper," she said, adding gaily to L. G., "I'd like to see your wife do that." L. G. seemed sulky, and stopped suggesting compromises. We broke up without getting any definite result. Sometimes I am tempted to wish that She would let me alone.

August, 1914.—It was a tense and solemn moment. Haldane had, with some difficult, sunk some of himself into the largest arm-chair. Grey sat with his elbows on the table gazing solemnly into futurity. Winston whistled merrily. Runciman snored in a corner. Lloyd George at the top of his voice was singing "Land of my Fathers." Otherwise intense silence prevailed. I stood gazing at the clock till the hands approached eleven. At last the great time-piece chimed out the hour. "Gentlemen," I said, with emotion, "we are at war with——" A tremendous bump outside interrupted me. We all stood aghast. Had German efficiency started bombing us the very second war began? The old butler opened the door. "I beg your pardon, sir," he said, "but in her hurry to be in at the start Mrs. Asquith slid down the banisters, and I think she's broken her collar-bone again."

December, 1916.—I have resigned, and he has got my place. Well, he is welcome to it. I am worn out with the struggle. I wish to retire from public life, but She is angry and will not allow it. When I persisted She declared that unless I came out and led the opposition to the Welsh wizard she would go on the halls, and dance as Salome with a dummy head of Lloyd George on a charger. She would, too! Decided to take up the leadership of the Opposition.

November, 1919.—She has published her Diary. I would not read it in advance, because She would have published it anyhow. Far better always to wait and see. I have waited. I have seen.

Haldane sent me a delightful letter of sympathy, and assures me that no one will think the worse of me for it. Very easy for a cautious and happy bachelor to write like that.

Met Balfour.—"Some one told me that Margot is writing a book," he said. "What is it about?" "What isn't it about!" I answered bitterly.

Looked up my old diary, and decided to publish it. Know that then I shall have the warmest sympathy of the husbands of England.

"Is this the hosiery department?" said the voice over the phone.

"Yes" replied the weary saleslady.

"Have you any flesh colored stockings in stock?" asked the voice.

"Yes" replied the weary saleslady. "Whaddy ya want—pink, yellow or black?"

Industrial China -:- By John Dewey

(In The New Republic)

Nowhere in the world is the difference between industrious and industrial as great as in China. The industriousness of the Chinese is proverbial. Industrially, they are in the earliest stages of the evolution from domestic to machine production, and from transportation on the necks of men (and women and children) to the freight car. The necks of men:—for while the bulk of goods in central China is doubtless carried by its marvellous system of water-ways, yet whenever winds fail the boats are towed with ropes attached to the shoulders of men—and women and children. On the Grand Canal, you can sometimes count forty persons from ten years up tugging at a rope attached to the mast of some clumsy junk. Even a Ruskin if abruptly placed in strictly mediaeval economic conditions might be forced to admit that there are two sides to the humanity of the steam locomotive. And the indiscriminate admirers of tht mediaeval guild might learn something from a study of the workings of its Chinese counterpart.

My last six weeks have been spent in travelling through the Province of Kiangsu. Shanghai is located in this province and it is industrially and commercially the most advanced in China, the one with the most mills, railways and foreign trade. For details and statistics the reader may go to consular reports, trade journals etc. This article has a humbler task. Its aim is merely to record impressions which seem to me to be indicative of the problems China has to face during the years of its oncoming accelerated industrial transformation.

The fifteen towns visited are scattered from the extreme north to the extreme south of the province; strictly speaking, two of them lie in the province of Chekiang to the south. The towns fall into four groups. The first contains the treaty ports, where foreign merchants have come in, where foreign capital is concentrated, and where foreign methods, though usually subjected to Chinese conditions in the form of acceptance of the compradore as a middleman, set the pace. For technical commercial purposes, from a statistical point of view, these towns of which Shanghai is the most important are doubtless the most interesting. From a social point of view they are the least interesting, except as one may want to make a study of the contact of two civilisations meeting with but one common object—the making of money.

Otherwise they are chiefly significant as revealing an increasing ability of the Chinese to adopt the joint stock and managerial system without coming to grief—as most of the early companies did that were exclusively Chinese. The reasons are worth recording, because they affect the entire problem everywhere of the introduction of modern industrialism. The speculative element, the promoter element, was at first most marked. The general psychology was that of gold mine promoting. After an early furore in which most "investors" lost their money, the bitten became wary, and even legitimate enterprises could not secure attention, except in the case of a very small number of persons who had made a success of their joint-stock mills. In the next place, the Chinese family system with the obligation it puts upon the prosperous member of the family to carry all his relatives who wish to be carried made nepotism so common as to be an impossible burden. And in the third place, most of the earlier enterprises scorned the technique of putting aside reserve funds in a prosperous season, and of writing off for depreciations. A short life and a merry one was the usual motto. Now, however, business methods have developed to the point where many Chinese mills are successfully competing with foreign capital and foreign management. In fact many Chinese think that the latter will soon be at a disadvantage because of the diversion of profits to the compradore, and the lack of personal contact with workmen. But upon this point it is not possible to get facts that can be depended upon.

The second class includes towns at the opposite extreme of development, towns that are not only non-treaty ports but that are only beginning to be touched. The northern part of the province, for example, is almost as primitive as it was five hundred years ago. The building of a railway has created some flour mills, and since the war egg-factories have made a new market. Eggs that used to sell for a third of a cent apiece now bring three times that, and the producer gets most of the increase. In all of the towns and villages, the number of hens any one family can keep is limited by communal action, as otherwise hens would poach. The extraordinary cumulative effect of large numbers so characteristic of China is nowhere better demonstrated than in the hundred thousands of eggs that nevertheless are daily brought by hand, or rather by neck, to the factories. Such an impression may seem too slight to record. But it is typical of the kind of happening that is still most significant for the larger part of industrial China. Even this fact is increasing the value of land, raising the standard of living so that rural families that had only one bedding now have two, and is changing the attitude toward railways from one of hostility to one of favor.

In these primitive districts one realises also the immense odds that have to be overcome. There are districts of a milion population that a few years ago had no public schools whatever, no public press, no postoffices, and where these facilities are still most scanty. The great positive obstacle is the activity of bandits. Being a robber is a recognised profession like being a merchant. The well-to-do live in constant fear of being looted so that their homes are almost as bare as those of beggars and in fear of being kidnapped for ransom. The professions of soldier and bandit are interchangeable, and upon the whole the peasants prefer the latter. One hears the story of the traveller who met a whole village in flight with their household goods on mules and in wheelbarrows, because the soldiers were coming to protect them from bandits.

It is such facts as these that lead many to assert that any genuine industrial development of China must wait upon the formation of a strong and stabilised government. The significance of the political factor is evidenced in the province of Anwhei which juts into the northern part of Kiangsu. Here is seen the perfect flower of militarism. The military governor recently closed all schools in the province for a year in order to spend the money on his army. He has been getting personal possession of all the mines in the province and recently diverted a river from two cities in order to make a canal to some of his mines. This is only an extreme case of the effect of present political conditions upon the industrial growth of China. Almost everywhere officials use their power, based on control of soldiers, to exact tribute. They levy blackmail on mills and mines; use the control of railways to manipulate the supply of cars until they can force an interest to be given them. Then they reinvest their funds in pawn shops, banks and other agencies of economic domination. Thus a new kind of feudalism is growing up in which militarism is a direct adjunct to capitalism. These men keep their spare millions in foreign banks and have places of refuge in foreign concessions. The control of the Ministries of Communications and of Finance is equivalent to an economic overlordship of China, and the effects ramify everywhere. The station master has to pay several thousands of dollars to get his job, and he recoups by charging fifty or a hundred dollars when a shipper wants a car. Yet industry and commerce are advancing, and there is probably as much reason for thinking that in the end their growth will reform government as that a stabilised government will permit the normal growth of industry.

The third class of towns consists of cities that also represent old China, but the prosperous and cultivated side of old China, cities that are now lazy, luxurious and refined along with extreme poverty and ignorance; towns that are slowly degenerating, for they want none of the new methods while the new methods are diverting industry and trade from them. To these cities go many retired officials with their stolen funds. As one moves about near the clubhouses and gilded house boats one hears everywhere the click of the gambling dominoes. There is money for dissipation and opium, but little for new industrial developments. Surplus funds are invested in neighboring rice lands; old small owners are crowded out, and a large class of tenant farmers is being created where family ownership has been the rule. Where the northern towns are merely primitive and backward, these once rich cities of the southern part of the province are reactionary and corrupt.

Finally there are industrial towns where foreigners cannot own land, or trade and where the chimneys of cotton and flour mills, and silk filatures are as numerous and smoky as in the factory districts of Shanghai—a development mostly of the last ten years, and indeed largely post-war. As it happens, the two most important of these towns present opposite types. In one of them the entire development has been in the hands of a single family, two brothers. And the leading spirit is one of the small group of men who vainly and heroically strove for the reformation of the Manchu dynasty from within. Finding his plans pigeon-holed and his efforts blocked, he retired to his native town and began almost single-handed a course of industrial and economic development. He has in his record the fact that he established the first strictly Chinese cotton mill in China and also the first normal school. And since both were innovations, since China had never had either of these things, he met with little but opposition and prophecies of disaster to himself and the district. Now the district is known popularly as the model town of China, with its good roads, its motor buses for connecting various villages, its technical schools, its care of blind and deaf, its total absence of beggars. But the method is that of old China at its best, a kind of Confucian paternalism; an exhibition on the small scale of the schemes for the reformation of the country which were rejected on the large scale. The combination of the new in industry and the old in ideas is signalised, in the girl and woman labor in the factories, while the magnate finds it "inconvenient" that boys and girls should be educated together after the age of ten years, with the usual result that most of the girls receive no schooling. The other town represents a go-as-you-please competitive development. There is less symmetry but more vitality. Many deplore the absence of cooperation and organisation in developing civic life. But it is characteristic of young China that it regards the greater individualism with all its lack of system as more promising than what it terms the benevolent autocracy of the model town.

But all of the industrial towns have one problem in common, and it is the problem of China. Is the industrial development of China to repeat the history of Great Britain, the United States and Japan until the evils of total laissez faire bring about a labor movement and a class struggle? Or will the experience of other countries be utilised and will the development be humanised? China is the land of problems, of problems so deadlocked and interlocked that one is constantly reminded of the Chinese puzzles of his childhood days. But for China and for the whole world this problem of the direction to be taken by its industrial evolution is the one of chief importance. Outwardly all the signs as yet point to movement in the inhuman direction, to blind repetition of the worst stages of the western industrial revolution. There are no factory laws, and if there were, no government capable of administering and enforcing them. You find silk filatures in which children of eight and ten are working fourteen hours a day for a pittance, and twelve hours is the regular shift in all the mills. And these establishments have many of them for the last few years paid dividends of from fifty to two hundred and fifty percent a year. Superficially China looks at the outset of its industrial career like the paradise of the socially unrestrained exploiter. The case however is not so simple or so certain. It is still conceivable that the future historian will say that the resistance of China to the introduction of the agencies of modern production aad distribution, the resistance which was long cited as the classic instance of stupid conservatism, was in truth the manifestation of a mighty social instinct which led China to wait until the world had reached a point where it was possible for society to control the industrial revolution instead of being its slave. But the tail of an article is no place even to list the conditions and forces which make such a history conceivable: only conceivable at the best, not necessarily probable, to say nothing of certain.

If Root Is Named

[From the New York Times, Dem]

Both at home and abroad the news that Mr. Root was to be Secretary of State would make an excellent impression. He would be felt to be a man level with his tasks, fitted to his opportunities. To ample and recently enlarged knowledge of sentiment in Europe, he would add experience in the State Department along with skill in negotiation and in the management of men. Above all, his appointment would give to the country assurance that it would speedily find its path in international affairs. A thousand difficulties for the incoming President would be solved if he were in due course to make public the fact that Mr. Root was to be his Secretary of State.

GOVERNMENT PUSHING AERIAL MAIL ROUTE

As the Central Government is desirous of having the prospective aerial route between Peking and Shanghai operated at an early date, the Aviation Department is instructed to send out capable officers to investigate the local conditions in the districts along the Peking-Shanghai route. If everything goes well, the Aviation Department will start the aerial service with effect from next Autumn. Materials necessary for the construction of the aerial stations have been supplied.

SEREMBAN ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHINA FAMINE FUND

A correspondent writes:—

Another brilliant effort to offer help to the China Famine was made by the Seremban public when a theatrical performance by the Chooi Lok Dramatic Co. of K. Lumpur was successfully put through.

It was at first surmised that there might be some difficulty in raising the necessary funds owing to the present financial stringency, but thanks to God and to our great relief the cries of the millions soon touched the hearts of every one rich and poor alike with the result that a very good collection was realised from the sale of tickets alone.

We understand that altogether a sum of nearly $7,500 has been collected, including other contributions from various sources.

Thanks are due to the Chooi Lok party for giving us this free performance as well as those concerned who rendered incalculable assistance in this well-deserving cause for the sake of their country-men.

HONGKONG MAN ON WORLD MOTOR BOAT TRIP

Dr. E. Salisbury of Hongkong is about to start on a two years' cruise in a motor yacht and will cover as much of the world as possible, says an exchange. The vessel in question is the Anemone, 125ft. in length and fitted with 125 b.h.p. Union open crosshead engine. Starting from Los Angeles, the yacht will proceed to Tahiti, on to Samoa, Fiji, New Hebrides, Solomon Islands, New Guinea, Java, and then to the Philippines, China, Siam, Borneo, Singapore, Calcutta, the Red Sea, and through the Suez Canal to the Mediterranean; after exploring the Black Sea, the vessel will proceed to the Azores and then to the Windward and Leeward Islands in the West Indies. After spending a few months here the boat will go on to the Panama Canal and back to the Pacific Coast. Dr. Salisbury takes with him a party of college students with a scientific training, and study will be made of fish and animal life as well as the peoples of the different countries. Needless to add moving picture machines will be taken, while the party will be provided with motor-cycles, so that they can explore the interior of the different countries visited.

108-YEAR-OLD WOMAN ILL FOR FIRST TIME

A guarantee of another 10 years of life has been made by a physicion to a lady in Oi-machi, Tokio-fu, who is now 108 years old and has just suffered her first illness. She lives with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Miki Shimizu, 67 years old. Her explanation and her advice for long life are:

"I was married when I was 18 years old. My husband drank a great deal, but I have never used liquor or tobacco. I do not know how to be sick. During the recent snow I contracted a slight cold and called in a doctor for the first time in my life.

"There are two things I try not do: To get angry and to overeat. It seems to me that my long life has resulted from this abstinence. The other day a police officer said to me: 'Next year you will be nine years old, so don't you think you had better start to school?'"

She was born in bird year, and she says that New Year's Day brought her the joy of entering on her ninth bird year.

SINGAPORE GIVES TO UNION JACK CLUB

At the annual gathering of the Singapore Union Jack Club, the General Secretary stated that a new site had been found for which the Government was giving $75,000 out of War Office funds. It would also help to keep the Club self-supporting.

LIGGETT AND MYERS STARTS IN CANTON

The Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, of America, has recently established a branch in Canton, in the Chung Mei Building.

The Manager of the Canton Branch, Mr. G. R. Stevenson, has had long experience in the tobacco and cigarette manufacturing business, and the firm of Liggett and Myers are the largest manufacturers of cigarettes in the world. They control seventeen factories in America and one in the Philippine Islands and are coming to China, not only to market tobacco products imported from America, but also intend to build factories here in China, which will afford employment for hundreds and perhaps thousands of Chinese people.

The Liggett and Myers business has been established for fifty years and it is capitalised at one hundred and seventy five million dollars gold. Their head office in the Orient is in Shanghai. Their Hongkong office is situated in the Hotel Mansions Building.

MID-AIR WEDDING STARTLES CALCUTTA

A marriage in mid-air, unique in that eight guests besides the bride, bridegroom, clergyman and best man were in the machine, has taken place in a Handley Page aeroplane flying over Calcutta.

The ceremoney when Miss Vera Garner was married to Mr. C. H. Mann, took place when the machine was a mile from the ground.

Captain F. R. Stackard, a friend of the bride and bridegroom, was at the wheel.

The Rev. J. C. Easterbrook was the officiating clergyman. The flight was no novelty to him, as he was on active service in France, and made several flights there.

A large number of guests remained on the ground, watching the machine, which climbed remarkably fast, and reached 6,000 ft. in 45 minutes.

The engines were then shut off, and the ceremony commenced as the aeroplane began to glide to earth.

The words of the service were perfectly audible, and the happy couple were united well before the machine returned to ground. The whole flight occupied about one hour.

GOVERNOR HARRISON LEAVES MANILA SOON

Governor General and Mrs. Harrison will leave the Philippines for the United States via Europe at the end of March on one of the Blue Funnel vessels, according to a statement made by Senate President Quezon. This sets at rest the report that has been going around that the chief executive is planning to leave the islands before the new president of the United States is inaugurated on March 4. The chief executive, according to Mr. Quezon, has already booked passage on the Blue Funnel vessel leaving about that time.

When Senate President Quezon was asked as to the identity of the temporary successor to Governor Harrison pending the arriva' of the permanent incumbent, he declared that that was a matter entirely for President-Elect Harding to decide and that he could appoint an American or a Filipino, as he deemed best, for the position.

It is explained that the Jones law does not provide for the succession to the office of the governor general beyond the fact that vice governor takes his place in case of the absence of the chief executive for any reason.

The Nervous Wreck

BY BRICE BELDEN, M. D.

Most of the nervous people who fill the offices of neurologists are under the impression that they are suffering from exhaustion due to overwork. As a matter of fact hard work in a muscular sense causes only a temporary fatigue which is seldom attended with serious consequences. The tales of self-sacrifice and drudgery recited by these selfpitying folk naturally mislead the inexpert Overwork is rarely in itself a cause of neurasthenia, and the young lady who has time to appeal to the psycho-analyst for relief from "utter and complete exhaustion" is very probably suffering from the results of morbid introspection and unnecessary emotional reaction. Poor cooking and overeating may also produce a toxic condition which tends toward weariness and fatigue.

Tired nerves are more likely to be the result of inactivity than of overwork and in many cases may be summed up as a disease called chronic loading. Together with toxic and emotional excess and a few cases of severe organic disease may be listed the condition in which unused muscle tissue has become a mass of poison-producing material comparable to unstirred swamp water.

Toxins are formed in sluggish, inert muscles resembling in their effects the exhausting toxins caused by overeating or the eating of poorly prepared food.

Barring the very few cases of true overwork and those who are suffering from definite diseases we have a great majority of cases in which weakness is caused by a deliberate neglect of the development of endurance and power. These people either never have attempted to overcome weakness or they have frittered away their natural strength through constant excess, worry, fear and kindred devitalising influences.

Life In General

The League of Nations delegates smoked up $15,000 worth of cigars—enough rope to bind the nations together for a great many years.

Tagore, the Hindoo poet, does not care for football. Well, we don't care for his first name Rabindranath, so that makes us even.

The scientists of the twenty-eighth century are going to have a dickens of a time figuring out the meaning of the drawings which some people make while telephoning.

Cities are growing seven times as fast as the country, according to the census. The farmers must be on a diet.

In Holland the cost of getting married varies according to the day of the week. Over here we're not so particular.

Another good reason why men never wear engagement rings is because their fiancees never buy them any.

Every Woman's Secret

"The worst of men," said the pretty widow in the corner, "is that they are such babies."

"But that is rather an endearing trait," I suggested. "All nice women love babies."

"Yes. But it makes things very difficult and causes all the complications in life."

"How?" I asked.

"Because men cannot bear to hear the truth from women on any subject concerning the sexes. They resent the truth and they hate any woman who attempts to tell it them. No woman can hope to keep her lover or her husband unless she resorts to all sorts of ruses and artifices.

"Men complain that women are untruthful. Of course they are Men have made them so. They are not naturally liars. On the contrary, most women just long beyond everything to find a man in whom they can confide to the uttermost, to whom they can tell everything."

"Is, then, the truth about women so very bad that it cannot be told?" I inquired.

"It is not a question of badness or goodness," she replied. "It is only that men cannot bear it. If a woman were to express her inmost feelings to her husband he would be amazed and infuriated A man hates a natural woman."

"Unless she is naturally nice," I interposed.

"There you are again. 'Nice'! What is 'nice'? What constitutes a 'nice' woman? Probably the one you consider so is just a rather better actress than the others."

"Surely," I said, "all these sweeping generalities are only half true? There are men and women who are pals as well as lovers, and who can speak plainly to one another about their true feelings. Besides, what you say proves nothing, because it is often just as difficult and dangerous for a man to tell a woman the whole truth as it is for a woman to tell a man, and I might argue in the same way that all women are babies."

"There is this difference," she replied. "A woman can hear the truth from a man and still love him. A man can't. Men are privileged to blurt out things that no woman is supposed to say or feel."

"Will you tell me the truth about women?" I asked.

"If I did you would never speak to me again," she replied.

"Risk it."

"I won't."

"Who was it that described woman as 'the Sphinx without a secret'?"

"You shall have the last word," she smiled as she said "Goodbye."
